PROFILE

Mike Keeley, Chair of Axinn’s antitrust practice, has nearly 30 years of experience in obtaining antitrust clearance for multibillion-dollar mergers, trying monopolization and patent jury cases, and arbitrating international commercial disputes. A substantial part of Mike's work involves the intersection of antitrust and intellectual property. As a testament to the value of business-minded approach to the law, Mike has cultivated lengthy relationships with some of the world’s most recognizable companies.

Lauded as a leading antitrust attorney by the prestigious Chambers USA and The Legal 500 United States, clients appreciate Mike’s unique commitment to immersing himself in the intricacies of their business. He positions himself to fully comprehend their challenges so as to provide quick, clear, and strategic guidance.

His strategic transactions work includes advising on Take-Two Interactive Software Inc.’s $13 billion acquisition of Zynga, Dell Technologies Inc.’s $67 billion acquisition of EMC, Thermo Fisher Scientific Inc.’s $13.6 billion acquisition of Life Technologies, and several strategic transactions for Tyson Foods, Inc.

Where mergers have been challenged, Mike has tried and prevailed in multiple cases, including the U.S. Department of Justice Antitrust Division's challenge to the sale of Tyson Foods’ poultry processing complex to George's Foods, as well as the City of New York's challenge to the combination of health insurers Group Health Incorporated (GHI) and Health Insurance Plan of Greater New York (HIP) to form EmblemHealth.
