

Lindsey Strang Aberg

Counsel | Washington, DC

Practice Areas

Antitrust

Litigation & Trials

Contact

T: 202.469.3550

lstrang@axinn.com

↓ Download V-Card

Lindsey Strang Aberg is a counsel in Axinn's Antitrust group. Her practice focuses on civil litigation, government investigations, mergers and acquisitions, and counseling and compliance. Lindsey has recently been involved in litigating multiple class action lawsuits alleging price fixing by major U.S. protein suppliers. Her recent antitrust work on strategic transactions includes Tyson Foods' $1.2 billion sale of its pet treats business to General Mills. Lindsey attended The George Washington University Law School, where she was a legal writing tutor and an associate editor of The George Washington Law Review. She holds a BA in Literature from American University.

Lindsey maintains an active pro bono practice and is currently leading an effort to recover owed wages from celebrity chef Mike Isabella and his business associates on behalf of a class of restaurant workers. She also puts her prior experience as an immigration paralegal to use by assisting immigration clients, including recent Afghan refugees, with asylum cases.

Experience

- Advised Tyson Foods, Inc., in the $1.2 billion sale of its pet treats business to General Mills, Inc.
- Assisted in securing dismissal of class action conspiracy claims for Tyson Foods.

Honors

- Selected for The Burton Foundation’s “Law360 Distinguished Legal Writing Awards” (2025)
- Winner, 2021 Concurrences Antitrust Writing Award (Business Article, Cross-border Issues subcategory), “Do You Have to Put Up With That? Legal Protections in the Context of Antitrust Law Investigations in the U.S. and E.U.” (English publication pending)
- Capital Pro Bono Honor Roll (High Honors, 2022; Honors, 2023)
- Best Lawyers, “Ones to Watch” (2023 – 2025)

Education

- JD, summa cum laude – The George Washington University Law School (2016)
- BA, Literature, summa cum laude – American University (2011)

Admissions

- District of Columbia
- U.S. District Court District of Columbia
- U.S. District Court District of Maryland

Quotes

“Axinn has seen every issue several times over and understands how to help clients efficiently navigate any litigation or investigation, or how to avoid them in the first instance through effective compliance counseling”

— The Legal 500 United States

