On July 10, Axinn partner Mary Helen Wimberly will moderate a panel on “Antitrust Around the World” at Informa’s Antitrust Midwest conference.

Panelists will discuss:

- Comparing approaches to digital markets
 - How do the United States, the United Kingdom, and the European Union approaches to digital markets differ and how are they the same?
 - What are the policy impacts of the Digital Markets Act (DMA) in other jurisdictions? Are similar laws being considered elsewhere?
 - What are the practical impacts of the DMA? Are the DMA’s policy choices affecting behaviors or enforcement beyond digital markets?
- Navigating competition law on a global scale
 - How should in-house counsel advise their business clients when navigating different global regulatory environments?
- Future of international antitrust cooperation and enforcement
 - Does the United States have the same influence it enjoyed in the past when coordinating and collaborating on competition policy with international authorities?
 - What global competition-related trends do we expect to see next?
