Anna Van de Stouwe is an associate in Axinn's Antitrust Group, where she represents clients in high-stakes litigation and government investigations with a focus on merger review and antitrust enforcement. A former attorney in the FTC's Mergers IV Division, Anna draws on her experience reviewing and challenging mergers in the healthcare, medical technology, and consumer products sectors to guide clients through fast-paced, high-profile investigations.

Before joining the FTC, Anna practiced at both national and regional law firms, where she represented clients in all aspects of federal and state court litigation, and in government investigations. Anna clerked for the Honorable Jane Kelly of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit and the Honorable Terrence G. Berg of the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan. She earned her JD from New York University School of Law, where she served as Senior Articles Editor of the N.Y.U. Review of Law & Social Change, and her BA in History and Slavic Studies from Brown University.
