On September 15, Axinn Partner Mary Helen Wimberly will speak on the “Antitrust in Transition: Risks & Opportunities in a Dynamic Market” panel at ALM’s Women, Influence, & Power in Law Conference, being held September 14–16, 2026 in Nashville, TN.

Antitrust enforcement is in a period of transition, shaped by shifting regulatory priorities, increased global scrutiny, and rapid market change driven by technology and consolidation. This session explores how these dynamics are reshaping competition risk, creating both constraints and strategic opportunities for businesses operating in fast-moving markets. Panelists will share valuable insights on emerging enforcement trends, evolving agency expectations and the increasing influence of antitrust considerations on commercial strategy, transactions and product decisions.
