Axinn partners James W. Attridge and Daniel K. Oakes will speak during a Virginia State Bar Antitrust and Consumer Protection Section CLE webinar titled “Blowing the Whistle on Cartels: DOJ’s Antitrust Whistleblower Rewards Program” on October 14 from 12–1 p.m. ET.

One year after the program’s launch — and following its first $1 million payout — Jimmy and Daniel will discuss how the DOJ Antitrust Division’s Whistleblower Rewards Program works and what its early implementation means for companies navigating potential cartel conduct. The conversation will cover eligibility for awards, the program’s relationship with the U.S. Postal Service, its impact on the race for leniency, and practical considerations for compliance programs, internal investigations, and acquisition diligence.

Presented by the Virginia State Bar Antitrust and Consumer Protection Section.
