On February 9, Axinn partner Craig Minerva will moderate an ABA Antitrust Law Section webinar entitled, “Increasing Markups & Concentration: A Closer Look.”

Recent calls for increased antitrust enforcement such as the Biden Executive Order on Promoting Competition are predicated on the view that markups, concentration, and prices have increased pervasively. What does the empirical evidence show? Several studies have analyzed these topics. The webinar will delve into that body of work, which has major implications for competition policy.
