We are excited to support the Connecticut Tech Council as they hold the Women of Innovation Awards on October 25.

Women of Innovation is a Connecticut Tech Council program and one of Connecticut's largest networks of women in tech. This year, thirty-four women will be recognized for their achievements in science, technology, engineering, and math. We're also proud to announce that Axinn counsel Rebecca Clegg will be presenting an award at this year's ceremony.

We invite you to join us as we celebrate the many achievements of professional women in STEM.
