Axinn partners Daniel Bitton, Lisl Dunlop, John Harkrider, and Michael Keely participated in interviews with the editors of Who's Who Legal: Thought Leaders Competition. John Harkrider also participated in an interview with the editors of Thought Leaders Global Elite - Competition. The publications bring together the insight, expertise, and wisdom of some of the world's foremost competition lawyers and economists.

In the interviews, Daniel discusses what he enjoys most about practicing antitrust law and his opinion on the future of international cartel work. Lisl outlines her most memorable case and her insight on how Senator Klobuchar's antitrust bill could impact antitrust practice. John describes his career to date and discusses ways in which technology currently impacts competition law. Mike explains how Axinn distinguishes itself in competition matters with an IP angle and his take on anticipated changes in the U.S. legal market in the next five years.
