PROFILE

Christopher Schwartz is a project attorney with a diverse background in both law and technology. Chris has a deep understanding of legal processes, including document review, deposition preparation, and internal investigations.

Prior to joining Axinn, Chris was an attorney at a law firm in Brooklyn, New York, where he focused on class action cases involving cash balance pension plans. Chris's background extends beyond the legal field, with previous roles in software development where he contributed to the development of telecommunications and industrial control systems. His ability to understand complex technical concepts has proven beneficial in both legal and technological contexts.

Chris holds an LLM, Certificate of Specialization in Tax Law from the University of Connecticut School of Law. He earned his JD from the University of Toronto Faculty of Law and holds an undergraduate degree in Computer Science from Western University.
