Corporate Counsel has named Axinn partner Rachel Adcox to its 2019 list of Women, Influence & Power in Law honorees. As a winner in the Law Firm Women's Legal Awards category, Rachel joins general counsel, in-house leaders, and law firm partners who have demonstrated a commitment to advancing the empowerment of women in law.

Corporate Counsel has featured profiles of this year's honorees in their December issue and recognized them at an awards dinner on October 16 as part of their Women, Influence & Power in Law Conference in Washington, D.C.
