On November 16, Axinn partner and Chief Diversity, Equity & Inclusion Officer Leslie Overton was inducted into the American Bar Association Section of Antitrust Women.Connected Committee's Hall of Fame-inism.

The Women.Connected's Hall of Fame-inism honors those who have made contributions as role models and in promoting women in the antitrust, consumer protection, and data privacy fields. Honorees have consistent track records of supporting and promoting other women, individually through mentoring, sponsoring, hiring, and creating leadership opportunities, to systemic change for which the honorees have pushed, such as resisting and changing structures, institutions, and other forms of systemic gender inequality.
