Profiles in Diversity Journal has named Axinn partner Denise Plunkett to their 2023 list of "Women Worth Watching in Leadership." This year, 84 distinguished women were featured in the annual publication. They join more than 2,000 former award recipients who exhibit dedication to their careers, their community, and those they mentor in their fields.

Denise Plunkett chairs Axinn's Litigation Group and has more than 25 years of experience handling an impressive array of high-profile antitrust cases and other high-stakes commercial disputes. Denise has served as lead trial counsel in well over a dozen jury trials of varying types. Her diverse litigation and counseling practice includes trials and appearances in numerous federal and state courts, international and AAA arbitrations, advocacy before the FTC Bureau of Competition, and appellate and other post-judgment representations.
